S.S.F. Hospital Hints Closing; Owner Blames New State Regulations

Dr. E. I. Bartlett, principal owner of the 36-bed South San Francisco Hospital, Wednesday threatened to close the institution if he is forced to spend additional funds to comply with new state regulations.

With hospital facilities at a premium throughout the Peninsula, loss of the privately-owned South San Francisco institution was seen as a critical development in San Mateo County's overall hospital problem.

Dr. Bartlett explained that the legislature has passed a bill which would require hospitals to provide additional fire safety measures, including construction of wide ramps on which patients might be wheeled from the building.

"This hospital isn't big enough for our enormous community," Dr. Bartlett declared. "It needs revamping and repairs. It's losing money. I don't see why we should be asked to put more money into a losing proposition. I'd rather convert the building into office space for doctors."

Meanwhile these other developments were reported Wednesday in the hospital situation:

1. There was a possibility that the Redwood City Hospital Committee, currently studying plans to form a district for erection of a hospital in the Redwood City area, would invite Mills Memorial Hospital to seek a site for its proposed $2,000,000 new hospital nearer the county seat.

Mrs. Henry Beeger, leader of the Redwood City hospital movement, said that any southward move by

With Tanforan base scheduled for complete abandonment by the navy not later than July 1, San Bruno city officials met with seven navy representatives in San Francisco Tuesday and opened negotiations for a 150-bed hospital and a group of other buildings at the base desired by San Bruno as a recreation center.

Involved in the negotiation is a total of 23 acres. At the time the base was planned, navy officials heeded the request of San Bruno officials as to the grouping of the buildings which San Bruno now desires to acquire.

Mills Memorial Hospital would have a definite bearing on the Redwood City plans.

Mills Memorial Hospital, an endowed institution, recently abandoned plans to erect its new hospital in South San Mateo after failing to reach a satisfactory agreement.

Postmaster Robert E. O'Connell Jr. reports that the mailing is about as heavy as last year with no unprecedented rush foreseen. About 30 extra employees will be put on by Monday.

New Mills Hospital Proposal Dropped

SAN MATEO—Mills Memorial Hospital's hopes for a new $2,000,000 institution crashed Monday when Borel and Bovey estate representatives' property demands proved "too unreasonable."

Plans for the ultra modern, 200-bed hospital, to be located immediately north of the Peninsula (Berkeley) Country Club in South San Mateo were in the final stages when announcement came that the "deal is off" and negotiations have ended.

The announcement was made by Paul I. Fagan, president of the hospital board of directors following a conference this noon among Borel and Bovey estate officials and Alec Henderson, Hillsborough real estate man who represented the hospital.

It is understood the hospital had offered $90,000 for the 18 acres of land at the west end of 20th Ave. and fronting on Alameda de las Pulgas, highway which links the north and south San Mateo and which was the cause of "the deal falling through," according to hospital officials.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow P. Ralston, reside on Route 1, Redwood City.

MENLO PARK—With Officer Joseph Ferreira at the wheel in pursuit of a speeder, a Menlo Park police car was damaged to the extent of $250 in a three-car accident on El Camino Real and College Ave. at 7:45 p.m. Sunday. As a result of the accident the speeder was able to escape arrest.

Ferreira was going south on the highway when a car driven by Ellis Simpson, Menlo Park barber, made a left turn from the northbound lane directly into the path of the police car.

The policeman swerved sharply to the left but was unable to avoid the other auto. The right rear end of both cars collided throwing the police car into the opposite lane of traffic where it sideswiped the car

Police reported the injured party who was riding in a car driven by Elizabeth Linquist, was taken to Palo Alto for treatment.

Mrs. Elizabeth Firenza, widow of Amadeo Firenza, Wednesday filed suit for damages of $25,995 from Armin H. Williams Jr., driver of an automobile which struck Firenza on Bayshore Hwy. at Randolph St., South San Francisco, on Dec. 27, 1944.

Mrs. Firenza asks general damages and $955 funeral expenses.

It's Time to Light the Tree Again!

A lighted Christmas tree is more than a glitter of tinsel or colorful decoration for holiday parties. It means many things to many people.

To a small child his first Christmas tree is one of life's great thrills. And through life it comes to mean good things... and rightly should. To a young couple it provides a cozy, romantic glow, reflecting the glow in their hearts. To the parent it is symbolic of unselfish sacrifice and the time of the year when Home is best.

But wherever it shines... in the family living room, in a small apartment, in a store window or public square... the Christmas tree heralds the Christmas spirit.

This year, after four war-darkened Christmases we can light up once again in a sincere hope that the peace and brotherhood of man we fought for can gain new and permanent meaning all over the world.

Santa Clara Jury Report Attacks County Officials

The Santa Clara County 1945 Grand Jury was discharged Tuesday by Superior Judge William S. James, but not before it had filed a blistering report that rapped members of the board of supervisors as "glorified road masters" and Sheriff William J. Enig for being "defiantly non-co-operative."

The grand jury reiterated the need for a charter form of government to replace the "obsolete, politically circumscribed and inadequately supervised type of government" which it charged now exists. Also recommended was a county-wide sewer system.

Members of the board of supervisors should pay more attention to the affairs of the county as a whole, the report recommended, pointing out that lack of co-operation between members of the board "has so nullified the merit of the individual supervisors that as a group they have failed to function effectively."

"Such departments as the county hospital, almshouse, county farm and detention home bear witness to the lack of top supervision," the report stated in describing the supervisors as "glorified road masters."

Here's what the report said about the sheriff—now facing indictment on charges of gambling conspiracy: "Our committee on law enforcement disclosed, as previous grand juries have, that illegal gambling and other vices were widespread throughout the county, yet our sheriff was defiantly non-co-operative when we brought the matter to his attention."

"We anticipate the district attorney will prove in the conspiracy case now awaiting trial: (A) That the sheriff had a personal interest in lawlessness. (B) That he was a member of an organized group of conspirators. (C) That the favored few who were permitted to operate did so with his protection against intruders."

Criticizing conditions in the county jail, the report said certain privileged prisoners were granted freedom outside the jail illegally, that the building was maintained in a filthy condition.

"Economic operation" recommendations included abolition of the almshouse and county farm with patients to be cared for at the county hospital; and organization of the county hospital and health department.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

The operatives who, in our absence, were assigned to cover the Commuters' Christmas party at Grace and Pierre's Saturday night for this column failed "send us" with their accounts of that affair. They confirmed there was such a party, that about 90 persons attended, that the food and music were good, and that, indubitably, a good time was had by all.

Their telling made the party sound ordinary, almost dull. And yet we knew it could not have been that way with such noted bon vivants and raconteurs in attendance as Elmer (Hydant) Ross, Charles "Barrymore" Woodmansee and William (The Spirit) Curran and their respective spouses, just to mention a few of the talented personalities with which the club abounds.

"What did you expect from a polite party of ladies and gentlemen?" asked one of our operatives indignantly. "A free-for-all? A police raid? A score or more Commuters sent to jail for the rest of the night?" Frankly, we expected no such report, but... it would have made an interesting column.

Caboose would have been there himself (the party, not the jail!) had it not been that he was supervising a similar affair, with Joe Primeau's help, at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. Parties are a lot of fun... if you don't have to shoulder the responsibility for their success. We were so nervous we checked our shoes and wore our hats into the dining room... and poured wine over our head lettuce and drank the salad dressing.

But we got home before most of the Commuters at that. We met the Bill McKeevans and the Al Witts looking for the formers' home on Grand St. Mac had us all in for a nightcap which Caboose needed like he needed a battleship.

Mac (alias Locomotive Bill), will be pleased to learn that we have

Argo Describes School Future At Sequoia's 50th Anniversary

The past should be a springboard for the future, A. C. Argo, Sequoia High School superintendent, told members of the Sequoia Alumni Assn. at their Golden Anniversary banquet Saturday night when he outlined the school's plans for the future, the best secondary school in California.

Argo explained that Sequoia now has 2000 students in a building with an intended capacity of 1600. He predicted that the school would have 3000 students in the next five years.

Need for a commercial wing with 16 to 20 rooms was outlined by Argo. The school also wants to add a fine arts building and a home-making building, he said. Recreation buildings and the cafeteria need enlarging, he declared.

"I have a dream that Sequoia will be the best secondary school in California," Argo stated.

He also stated he hoped the school would have the best offering in college preparation.

A. S. Kalenborn, class of 1902, told of the early days of Sequoia and told of the start of some of its customs. The school colors, purple and white, which are still in use today, were adopted around the turn of the century, she said.

Dep. Sheriff Eugene Cerqui, '22, told about the boys of his days playing football on rocky ground where the Branyan business district northeast of El Camino Real is now located. Those were the days when spectators followed the plays along the sidelines instead of from the bleachers.

San Mateo High School was the big rival then, instead of Palo Alto, Cerqui said it was impossible to compare athletes of those days with athletes now, because there is no comparison in equipment and coaches. Coaching was a sideline then, he pointed out.

Louis B. Dematteis, '28, Redwood City attorney and former chief deputy district attorney, pointed out that Sequoia is rich in background and said that the new campus, where the school is now located, brought to Sequoia a new spirit.

The old barn, which is now used as the manual arts building, was used as the first classrooms on the new campus in 1923.

He said that in the twenties the students debated on whether to call the Sequoia teams Cherokees or Jackrabbits. Cherokees won out and the name is still used today.

LeRoy Laurence, '37, told of experiences of the thirties. Graduates of the class of 1937 were the first to use caps and gowns, he said.

He described the start of the Sequoia Varieties, still a gala occasion at the high school.

Sequoia has won 26 sports championships in the past three years, Dean Borba, commissioner of cultural activities at Sequoia who is scheduled to graduate in January, said. This is 70 per cent of what should be split among nine high schools.

Mrs. Carol Woodhams Peters and John Dusel sang the "Desert Song," "One Alone" and "Lover, Come Back To Me," accompanied by Rosalie Carrington. Dusel led in group singing of Sequoia songs and Christmas carols.

An address of welcome was given by Florence Tiedemann, president of the alumni association. Wesley Haydock, '27, was master of ceremonies.

Other permits went to D. Ryan, 1707 Hopkins Ave., $9000 dwelling; A. E. Seseman, 648 El Camino Real, $200 garage; Roy Cleaners, 11 El Camino Real, $4500 addition; and F. Lampi, 26 Eagle Hill Terrace, $6000 dwelling.

Two Persons Hurt In S.M. Accident

Opening Fire Rig Bids

City Mgr. Edgar W. Blom (left) opened four bids for two new fire trucks at the city council meeting Monday night while Dep. Chief Joseph Lodi and Mayor Hilton studied one of the offers. City Seeks to Clear Land for Park Site

Condemnation suit naming more than 60 defendants was brought by the City of Redwood City Tuesday against owners of lots at the 30-acre site of the proposed recreation center between Roosevelt and Vera Ave. and Dickey St. and Valota Rd.

The center, part of the $998,000 bond issue program of public works, will include a swimming pool, baseball and football fields, tennis courts, a grandstand and community buildings.

The bond issue allocates $224,000 to the center and parks.

Kiwanis Holds Christmas Fete

Seventy-five Kiwanians and their wives attended a Christmas dinner party at the Villa Chartier Wednesday night.

Entertainment was furnished by Madam Trist, magician; "Bud" Kellogg, piano numbers; Fred Walker, vocal solos and Ralph Dodge and his sister, Clarice Dodge, vocal duet.

A gift of a blanket was presented to Mrs. Ferris Miles, wife of the retiring president, James Thomas is the newly elected president.

Wednesday noon a party for children was given by the Kiwanis Club at the Masonic Hall, complete with Christmas tree, Santa Claus and gifts for all.

Contracting Firm To Open in R.C.

A new firm of general contractors, to be known as Cattich Bros. & Stevenson, will begin operation here shortly after Jan. 1, it was announced Wednesday.

The firm will have offices at 2395 Broadway.

Members of the concern are Andrew Cattich, who has been in the general contracting business here for a number of years; Otto Cattich of San Francisco, who has worked for building contractors, and Budd Stevenson of San Francisco, who formerly was assistant superintendent and office manager at the Pacific Bridge Co. at the Port of Redwood City.

Both Otto Cattich and Stevenson plan to move to Redwood City. Stevenson has just been released from the army. He was in the service 31 months and was in the Pacific Theater of operation for 19 months. He said he plans to give veterans all consideration.

Sharon Counsel Receives $87,000

The law firm of McCutchen, Thomas, Matthews, Griffiths & Greene has been granted an $87,000 payment for ordinary legal services to the estate of the late Louise Tevis Sharon, Menlo Park woman who died Dec. 19, 1938.

Mrs. Sharon, whose estate approximated $15,000,000, died in England.

Judge A. R. Cotton signed the order for payment.

Highlands Group Plans Fire Study

The Highlands Dist. Improvement Assn. has made its 1946 objective to acquaint residents of Emerald Lake with fire protection information, E. Hoffmann Price, secretary-treasurer, announced Wednesday.

The association has appointed Phillip Hastings, Frederick Benz, J. R. Bozeman and William A. Harper as a special committee to find facts on the fire protection facilities of the Emerald Lake area and to present to the proper authorities to correct the present situation.

Prompting the move was the recent $35,000 blaze which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Covarrubias.

Pending a complete analysis of conditions which permitted destruction of the Covarrubias residence, the association voted to mail to all householders a bulletin and a map so that each resident will know whether his home is in the area served by the County Forest Service or in the one over which the Woodside Fire Dept. has jurisdiction.

In no case, Price declared, should time be wasted in calling the Redwood City Fire Dept., which is not permitted to serve Emerald Lake.

The Hall of Fame stands on the campus of New York University. Buenos Aires has a population of 2,995,891.

City Council Delays Dancing School Action Despite Plea for Speed

Councilman C. C. Armstrong Monday staged a one-man campaign for what he termed "consistency," but his fellow city councilmen voted indecision and postponed settlement of the long-debated matter of dancing schools in a first residential zone. Armstrong led off the heated discussion with "let's hear it tonight — battle it out," after Councilman E. A. Fletcher had moved a 30-day delay in considering a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance.

The amendment would permit "musicians, school teachers, dancing classes, private kindergartens, nursery schools and other private schools" in a first residential zone.

Councilman Harold F. Anderson expressed a change of mind and declared he doubted "if it is a solution."

Miss Dorothy Roberts, whose dancing school at 180 Elwood St. is the immediate object of the zoning reconsideration, sat in the front row of the crowded council chambers and heard Anderson say, "I think it best to allow the ordinance to stand as is and then take into consideration the fact that we have given a permit by this city whether city employees made a mistake or not."

Apparently your argument is based on the premise that once given a permit, always given a permit," Armstrong answered.

Then he challenged the councilmen by insisting "this council hasn't a consistent policy; it has a policy of expediency."

"If we make ordinances, let's follow them. We who make the ordinances should have the most respect for them."

Louis B. Dematteis, Miss Roberts' attorney, pointed out no formal objections had been registered with the council, and insisted Miss Roberts had been led

Nurse Wage Boost Delayed

County-employed registered nurses will have to wait until February for an answer to their requests for 15 per cent wage increases, according to action taken by the County Civil Service Commission at a special meeting Tuesday.

The request was stated in a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Gentry, president of the San Mateo County district of the California State Nurses' Assn., which is making state-wide demands.

Commissioners, after discussing the proposal, agreed to await results of a classification and compensation survey which is underway at present.

The survey with salary data, expected to be ready for February, are being made in order to make adjustments to current inequities which exist in occupational classes in the county classified service, Personnel Officer Russell J. Cooney explained Wednesday.

The commissioners also adopted two occupational classes, planning assistant and planning associate, and positions will be set up in anticipated action by the supervisors at the next board meeting.

Pay scale of $170 to $210 was recommended for the planning assistant, with the associate recommended to receive $215 to $275.

A request from the health department for permission to employ temporary nurses at $8 per day for emergency periods up to a maximum of three weeks was approved.

The request was made because of the serious nurse shortage, Cooney said.

Commissioners also approved proposed increases in the pay scale of practical nurses. New scale, if approved by the supervisors, would become $120 to $160 plus the $20 monthly bonus.

Leaves of absence without pay were approved for Christine O. Iverson, practical nurse at Community Hospital, Susie Pasquini, senior stenographer clerk in the medical welfare section, Lola Hawkinberry, copyist in the clerk's office, and Kate Cochran, senior stenographer clerk in the sanitation section.

Additional leaves without pay were granted to Montez Salvotti, senior typist clerk in the medical welfare section and J. Farrell of the county engineers department.

The commission voted a letter of appreciation to L. G. Owen, ex-chairman of the commission. Arrangements for a farewell dinner were made.

County Group Forms Butano Committee

Representatives of organizations throughout the Bay Area formed "A Statewide Committee for the Acquisition of the Butano" Tuesday afternoon during a special meeting called at the city hall here, and:

SAFeway Christmas Shopping List

PRICES EFFECTIVE DEC. 20th THRU DEC. 24th

Here's your guide for a grand Christmas dinner. Just check the foods you'll need for appetizingly different holiday meals... then buy them all at Safeway. It's convenient and easy... and Safeway prices always save you money.

How to add an extra flourish to this year's Christmas Dinner

To stay the pangs of hunger generated by the aroma of roasting turkey, serve the first course of your Christmas Dinner in the living room. Sparkling glasses filled with well chilled fruit or tomato juice appeal to the eye and palate. And crisp crackers and bread rounds, squares or triangles spread with cheese are the right accompaniment. Arrange these tidbits around a miniature Christmas tree placed in the center of a large plate or tray.

CORNBREAD - RIPE OLIVE STUFFING

A delicious stuffing for the 12 to 15 pound Christmas turkey is made by using 6 to 8 cups crumbled cornbread in place of the ordinary bread in your favorite recipe. Besides the celery, onion, parsley, egg and seasonings add 2 cups of chopped ripe olives.

YAM CASSEROLE

To 6 cups cooked, peeled, mashed yams add melted butter, two beaten eggs, sugar and pastry spices to taste. Put in a greased casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes to heat through. This dish does not require last minute attention.

SLEIGH BELL SALAD

Toss together lightly, 3 cups grapefruit segments, 1 cup slivered toasted almonds. Serve in grapefruit shells or lettuce cups, garnish with thinly sliced rings of green pepper. Pass French Dressing at the table. Serves 6 to 8.

PLUM PUDDING 1945

Steam your favorite plum pudding recipe in individual molds. Or, roll into balls, wrap and tie in cloth and steam. Always serve plum pudding piping-hot; garnish with a generous amount of hard sauce and top with a sprig of holly. A hot lemon or vanilla sauce, poured from a pitcher, may be served instead of hard sauce.

HOLIDAY CRANBERRY PUNCH

Cook 2 cups washed cranberries and 2 cups boiling water 10 minutes; strain. Heat to boiling: 6 cups water, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 cup cinnamon candies and 6 whole cloves; cook until candy dissolves. Add 1/2 cup lemon juice, 3/4 cup orange juice and strained cranberries. Serve hot. Makes about 2 quarts.

Building contractors who have been faced with lumber shortage received a boost today with the start of the unloading of 500,000 board feet of lumber from the SS Quinalt, which arrived here Monday afternoon from Coos Bay, Ore.

The Quinalt is the first of a number of boats expected to arrive here soon, now that the port has been turned over by the navy to civilian use.

The discharging of lumber from the Quinalt started at 8 o'clock and it was expected to take three or four days to unload. Crews of stevedores were unloading the boat. The lumber is destined for Sudden Lumber Co. here.

S.F. Supervisors Refuse Vote On Carfare Raise

Redwood City and other Peninsula commuters have won a delay before having to pay an increased fare to ride Municipal streetcars in San Francisco.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors Monday refused the request of the public utilities commission for immediate action on the proposed fare increase. This dampens the hopes of the commission to put the higher fare, 8 1/2 cents, into effect Jan. 1.

However, Utilities Mgr. James H. Turner declared that if the board hasn't acted by Jan. 4, he will recommend to the commission that it consider the fare increase effective automatically, in accordance with provisions of the city charter. Turner said that every day beyond Jan. 1 that the fare increase on the Municipal Railway is postponed means a loss of $9300 and a consequent delay in improvement of service.
